CATRIONA McPHERSON

author of 36 mystery novels and Davis resident, presents her new release The Dead Room, an atmospheric thriller in which a young widow seeking refuge from grief finds something darker waiting for her.

PLUS: KAREN LEVY

author of My Father's Garden, who will present a selection from the novel she's currently writing.

OCT
11

TWO AUTHORS

Presenting two authors from the magazine UnderTheGumTree.

NOV
8

CHERI RADKE

author of An Accident of Dragons, a fast, funny, and clever high fantasy full of twists and surprises on the way to discovering who he's meant to be.

Also: ZUNI CHOPRA

whose debut novel The House That Spoke was published by Penguin Random House India when she was 15. This is her second appearance at Stories on Stage Davis.

DEC
13

LAUREN JOHNSON

presents The West Façade, which imagines what it would be like for a statue on one of the world's most famous landmarks to long for — and gain — the experience of being human. Set during the Black Death in Paris, this story brings the statues' world vividly to life.

Also: ANDREW TOUHY

author of Designs for a Magician's Top Hat, winner of the inaugural Yemassee Fiction Chapbook Prize, and recipient of the San Francisco Browning Society's Dramatic Monologue Award and the Fourteen Hills Bambi Holmes Award for Emerging Writers.

JAN
10

TWO EMERGING WRITERS

A short story by Davis resident PATRICIA WILDER, and one by LEXI PANDEL, driving up from Oakland, whose work has been previously nominated for the Pushcart Prize.

FEB
14

NINA SCHUYLER

winner of the PEN Oakland Josephine Miles Literary Award and a finalist for the Northern California Book Award. Her collection In This Ravishing World brings together an unforgettable cast of dreamers, escapists, activists, and artists, creating a kaleidoscopic view of the climate crisis.

Also: ALEX CLEMENTE

an emerging Venezuelan American writer now living in San Francisco, with a short story that won the Columbia Journal's winter contest.

MAR
14

VANESSA HUA

bestselling author of Coyoteland, a funny, heartfelt novel set in an affluent Bay Area suburb. Hua blends suspense, satire, and social critique into a story that's sharp, immersive, and hard to put down.

Also: KAROLINA LETUNOVA

Davis resident, with a short story.

APR
11

VALERIE STOLLER

presents her debut novel Shipyards Gals, a richly detailed historical novel about three women working in the Richmond Shipyards during WWII. Goodreads readers have rated it 4.9.

Also: MEGAN CUMMINS

reads from Atomic Hearts, a powerful and moving novel about family, love, and what we inherit — the damage and the love in equal measure.

MAY 16

3RD SUNDAY
OF MONTH

YANG HUANG

winner of a Nautilus Gold Award and an IPPY Gold Award, and a Lambda Literary Award finalist. Her new novel Oasis, winner of the Cai Emmons Fiction Award, arrives April 13, 2027. Stories on Stage Davis is proud to present this amazing book just in time for you to pre-order and read it.

Also: ROBERT FAUS

who holds an MFA from the Bennington Writing Seminars, with a short story that closes out Season XIII.
